GRAF PUTS OUT TO SEA CARRYING SIXTY-SIX PEOPLE

Passenger List Totals 22 and the Crew Numbers 44

IS BOUND FOR SEVILLE

Favored by Strong Tail Wind, May Reach Spain By Tomorrow Night

By James L. Kilgallen
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 3—(INS)—Making fast time on its return trip to Friedrichshafen, Germany, the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin had covered approximately 1,000 miles of the long journey from Lakehurst, N. J., at 10 a. m. today (Eastern Daylight Saving Time) according to a wireless message from the ship received by the Hamburg American line here.

At that hour, the Graf's position was 40.18 north latitude, 57.30 west longitude. This position was almost due east of New York.

NAVAL AIR STATION, LAKEHURST, N. J., June 3.—Carrying 22 passengers and a crew of 44, the Graf Zeppelin streaked over the North Atlantic Ocean today toward Seville, Spain, on the final stretch of her homeward journey to Friedrichshafen, Germany.

The Graf, favored by a strong tail wind, was due to arrive in Seville late Wednesday night. Just before the take-off from Lakehurst at 1012 last night, Commander Hugo Eckener estimated that the Graf Zeppelin would reach Seville in fifty hours. A two-hour stop will be made at Seville where eight passengers and a quantity of mail will be discharged and then the giant dirigible will start a twenty-hour trip to the home port at Friedrichshafen.

Three continents have been linked by the Graf in the present flight. Europe, South America and the United States. The Graf left Friedrichshafen on Sunday, May 18, proceeding from that city to Seville, thence to Pernambuco, Brazil, down to Rio De Janeiro, back to Pernambuco and thence to Lakehurst. The trip from here to Seville is 5100 nautical miles or 5800 statute miles.

Cheers went up from 1,000 spectators as the Graf, her silvery flanks glinting in the rays of a quarter moon, soared majestically into the star studded night and turned her blunt nose toward New York City over which she passed about half an hour later. The big ship sped onward in a northeasterly direction before finally passing out to sea.

Commander Eckener and the Graf Zeppelin will not be seen in the United States again for a considerable period. The Graf has a busy summer schedule ahead including three flights to the Arctic Circle and trips to almost every part of Europe but no further journeys to the United States are contemplated. Just before leaving Eckener smilingly remarked he did not want to "abuse" the hospitality of the United States.

Eckener however predicted that a dirigible service between Friedrichshafen and the United States would be in operation by September 1931. The new and bigger German dirigible will be completed by August next year, he said, and immediately thereafter the trans-Atlantic dirigible service will be inaugurated.

He expressed the opinion that at least 3 dirigibles would be necessary to form the nucleus of this service and he thought trips should be made at intervals of five days.

He said the new German ship had not been named but he rather liked "Friedrichshafen." No, he smilingly asserted, it certainly would not be "Eckener." And when another German dirigible is built he thought it should be named "Lakehurst." He did not know where the United States terminal of the line would be but he believed it would be "somewhere between Washington and Baltimore but not too far from New York."

The passengers now aboard the Graf on her flight to Seville include Sir Hubert Wilkins, noted explorer and writer and Mrs. Wilkins. Also on the ship are John H. Greaves, and Mrs. Greaves, who are going to Oberamergau to witness the passion play. They plan to make a flight to the North Cape in the Zeppelin this summer. Others on board include Burton Preston of Mansfield, Ohio, a large importer of German monuments. He is wealthy and socially prominent in Mansfield. Another passenger from Ohio is Mrs. Charles B. Parker, of Cleveland. Mrs. Parker made the flight from Lakehurst to Friedrichshafen last year. She received word only Sunday afternoon that she would be accepted as a passenger on the Zeppelin and took a train immediately for Lakehurst.

Fred M. Harpham, a vice president of the Goodyear Zeppelin Co., of Akron, Ohio, is also on board.

The foreign passengers include the infante Don Alfonse of Spain, Dr. Herman Badt of the German ministry of transportation and Martin Wronsky, director of the Lufthansa, Berlin.

TWO EAST ROCKHILL YOUTHS ARE REARRESTED AFTER CONFESSING TO ROBBING OF 10 PLACES IN BUCKS COUNTY; LOOT ESTIMATED AT $5,000

Were Discharged at Hearing on Saturday on Charge of Stealing Chickens; Held on Charge of Attempting to Rob Roadside Stand

DOYLESTOWN, June 3.—After they had been discharged at a hearing last Saturday in Sellersville on a charge of stealing chickens but held on a charge of attempting to rob a roadside stand near Sellersville last week when they were arrested by police from Sellersville and Perkasie, State Police from the local sub-station rearrested two East Rockhill township youths who confessed to robbing ten Bucks county places of merchandise estimated to be worth over $5,000.

The robberies were committed during the past thirty days by William Diehl, thirty, and John Bousfield, 27, both of whom will be given hearings tonight before Justice of the Peace W. Carlile Hobensack.

Diehl, a married man with a wife and three children, and Bousfield, who lives near the Diehl home, confessed to Corporal William Francis and Private Harry Christ, of the State Police, at the local headquarters last Saturday night. The story they told police in a signed statement stamps this pair of criminals as one of the most daring ever captured in Bucks county. In addition to that it goes a long way toward breaking up a reign of terror and stealing that has been alarming the residents of upper Bucks county for many weeks and has gone unsolved by borough police.

Diehl and Bousfield told the officers they had been out of work and had decided to do some robbing. The stolen loot was hidden at Diehl's home and in the woods and outbuildings near his home on the Ridge Road. Some of the loot was buried in the ground. State Police used a large truck to transport the stolen goods from the Diehl place to the State Police headquarters here last Saturday.

Most of the robberies were committed at night. On several occasions Diehl and Bousfield were drunk and they not only stole valuable articles from houses and garages they entered but played havoc by throwing ink bottles at lamp shades and causing much damage and destruction in general to property.

At one fashionable home near Sellersville they stole china and clocks that the owner valued at over $2500. A number of the pieces of inlaid and gold-banded china were broken.

Diehl was arrested last week after he had been chased and shot at by the owner of a roadside stand near Sellersville. Diehl later gave State Police the information about Bousfield and was arrested by Perkasie and Sellersville police. At the hearing at Justice Groff's office in Sellersville last Saturday, a charge of stealing chickens was dropped because of lack of evidence but on a charge of attempting to break into the roadside stand of Victor Wackerman, Diehl and Bousfield were held under $3,000 bail. After the hearing the State Police took charge of the men and brought them to Doylestown where they were questioned at length and confessed to ten robberies.

In the signed confession, Diehl and Bousfield describe in detail the places they robbed and how they took the State Police to the various places last Saturday and described to the owners how they robbed them.

At the Boorse gasoline station on the Richlandtown pike in early May about 2 a. m. they stole tires out of a garage and then robbed the eating stand attached to it.

Next they stole some leather belting from a stone quarry near Quakertown and the same night robbed the butcher shop conducted by Elmer Fluck, where they stole meat, took it to

ST. ANN'S SINK DEEPER IN TWILIGHT CONTEST

Drop Fifth Straight Game, Losing to Emilie Y. M. A. Aggregation

FINAL SCORE IS 12 TO 3

Schedule for Tonight

FEDERALS versus A. O. H.

Last Night's Result

EMILIE ..... 12 ST. ANN'S 3

(By T. M. Juno)

St. Ann's dropped its fifth straight Bristol Twilight League defeat last night by losing to the league-leading Emily Y. M. A., 12-3, in an uninteresting game played on the "Saints'" field.

Ten runs in the second inning were enough for the Farmers to clinch the game, and towards the end of the game they did not do any hard hitting.

Carp was the winning hurler, giving up but six hits. Four of these were of the "squib" assortment. In addition to this the twirler fanned nine batters and was the hardest hitter of the evening. In four trips to the plate he had a single, double, and triple and a force-out after his name. His hits could have been stretched out, but as a pitcher he did not wish to over-exert himself.

"Mikey" Castor started on the mound for the "Saints" and was forced to retire in the big second inning when the leaders counted ten times. "Pete" Bracco relieved him and pitched good relief ball, holding the winners to one run and three hits.

"Shine" Gilardi did all the damage against Carp, making three hits out of four and scoring all the losers' tallies besides stealing two bases.

The defeat places the "Saints" deeper into the cellar and gives Emilie a full one-game lead in the league standing.

Score by innings:

Gilardi beat out a hit to Arrison; Gilardi stole second; Pieo singled past Still, Gilardi stopping at third; Whyno walked, filling the bases; Roe lifted an infield fly to Still; Missera received four wide ones and Gilardi scored; DiTanna and Tosti struck out.

R. Arrison hit to Missera for an out; Whyno allowed H. Morrell's roller to pass through his legs; Morrell stole second; Adams shot a long hit to left field good for three bases, but he failed to touch first and was out, Morrell scoring (Adams did not receive credit for a hit); Bruce hit to Castor and was out at first.

Second — Angelo walked; Castor bunted a fly to Carp; Gilardi fanned; Pieo flied to left.

Still reached first on Pieo's error; Watson singled to right; Satterthwaite hit to Pieo who threw wild at the plate in an attempt to get Still, Watson also scoring on the play; Carp scored Satterthwaite with a triple to left; J. Morrell singled over second, scoring Carp; Arrison was passed; H. Morrell singled past shortstop, counting J. Morrell; Adams fanned; Bruce's short hit fell safe behind third base for a single, scoring Arrison; Still, up for the second time, hit to Missera who threw too late to get Morrell at the plate; Watson grounded out to Whyno, Still counting on the play at first; Satterthwaite doubled to left and Carp followed with another to the same place, Satterthwaite rushing to the plate (Bracco relieved Castor as the St. Ann's moundsman); J. Morrell tapped in front of the plate and was tossed out by Angelo.

Third—Whyno fanned; Roe lined to Satterthwaite; Quici was safe on Arrison's error; DiTanna lifted a high fly to Morrell.

Arrison singled to left; H. Morrell singled to center and when DiTanna threw wild to the infield, Arrison scored; Adams hit a fly to Gilardi; Bruce rolled to Pieo; Still hit to Bracco and went out at first.

Fourth — It took Carp but three pitches to retire the side. Tosti hit the first ball pitched to short and was out; Angelo lined the second pitched ball to Satterthwaite; Bracco took a chance on the third pitch and lifted a foul fly to Bruce.

Watson and Satterthwaite flied to DiTanna and Tosti, respectively; Carp

ROADMASTER TO APPEAL TO THE SUPREME COURT

William L. Ely Will Carry Fight to High State Tribunal

LATEST STEP TAKEN

DOYLESTOWN, June 3—William L. Ely, road master of Solebury township, will appeal to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania the decision made this week in which a temporary injunction was continued until the final hearing in the equity case brought by Colonel George VanOrden, president of the Solebury Good Roads Association against the supervisors of Solebury township.

Judge Hiram H. Keller continued the injunction after the hearing in court yesterday in which the plaintiff asked that the supervisors be enjoined from paying a claim for hauling stone that it is charged, was in excess of the low bid submitted to the supervisors.

John L. DuBois, of Doylestown, attorney for William L. Ely, one of the supervisors and road master of the township, is preparing the necessary papers today to appeal the decision of the Court.

This is the lastest step in a long, bitter and drawn-out fight to settle what both sides claim to be right and just.

Bristol High School Captures Fourth Straight

SCOUTS' GOOD TURN DAY TO BE OBSERVED ON SAT.

Will Pick Up Sharp Objects From Roadways in All Communities

TO VISIT EXECUTIVES

Scouts and leaders will be mobilizing Saturday for the annual Boy Scout Community Good Turn. With the success of the puncture-less campaign last year, in which Scouts covered the streets and highways of their local communities, picking up sharp objects, the Civic Service Committee is repeating the program this year. In addition, it is planned that a representative for each local troop will visit the mayor, burgess or president of the Council of each Bucks County community to be informed as to a special worth-while project that the scouts can do. This effort on the part of the Civic Service Committee of the Bucks County Council is to train scouts to appreciate their responsibility as citizens.

Throughout Bucks County the Scouts observed Memorial Day. A special effort was made in all communities, whereby the Scouts instead of going away with their parents, would stay home and participate in the local observance. Riegelsville No. 1 did the unusual feat of launching a 6-foot boat containing floral tributes to the veterans of the past wars.

Camp folders and troop meeting room posters are on exhibit to tell the Scouts and Cubs of what is scheduled for activities at Camp Buccou this summer. Camp registrations are now open for the Cub Camp, Scout Camp, Indian Village, Daniel Boone Stockade, and Waterfront Camp.

Mrs. M. L. Webb, of Radcliffe street, is spending a week with relatives in Berwick, Pa.

Mrs. Stokes is ill and she desires to see her daughter, who she thinks is residing in Bristol.

TWO INJURED WHEN SIX CARS COLLIDE

Empty Gas Tank in One of the Machines is Cause of The Accidents

NO ARRESTS ARE MADE

Two persons were injured and six automobiles damaged when the cars figured in a peculiar mishap on the Lincoln Highway at Woodbourne, near South Langhorne, early yesterday morning. Miss Ann Watson, of Delta, York County, Pa., received a broken hip and fractured ribs. She is now in the Frankford Hospital, Philadelphia.

George Kisse, of 2219 South 24th street, Philadelphia, sustained lacerations of the head and was taken to the McKinley Hospital.

Troopers McAfee and Pezzent, of the Langhorne State Highway Patrol, who made an investigation, declare that the accident was due to an automoblie operated by Fred Davis, negro, of 11 Wilson street, Trenton, coming to a stop in the road when his gas tank became empty.

Davis was looking the car over to see what the trouble was when the machine operated by Kisse crashed into him. John Hollingsworth, of South Langhorne, was proceeding in the same direction with a wrecker and stopped to give assistance.

Miss Watson did not see the damaged auto ahead of her and crashed into it. Her machine was wrecked and she was tossed out. A bus owned by the P. R. T. running in the same direction, and operated by Frank J. Shepard, of 5020 Dumont street, Philadelphia, attempted to pass the machines and collided with a car driven by Abe Bloom, of 3041 Sedgeley street, Philadelphia. Police say that Sheppard tried to get back into traffic again and struck the wrecked cars on the opposite side of the road.

MOTHER SAYS SHE WAS WITHOUT FUNDS AND ILL

Mrs. Daisy McCombs Tells Court Why She Abandoned Her Infant Child

INFANT IS ADOPTED

Wife of Chief of Police Gets Signature to Necessary Paper

DOYLESTOWN, June 3.—No home to go to, ousted from a boarding house because the board bill was unpaid, destitute and sick—that was the predicament Mrs. Daisy McCombs, of Bristol, told Judge Hiram H. Keller she was in when she pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of abandonment of an infant child.

The baby boy was deserted on a Bristol doorstep at the age of two weeks. Yesterday, Mrs. McCombs told Judge Keller that she would sign the necessary papers to have Mrs. Linford Jones, wife of the Chief of Police of Bristol, adopt the child. The officer's wife took the child after it had been placed in the Harriman Hospital, Bristol.

Yesterday, Mrs. Jones sat in the court room with the little infant in her arms while the mother pleaded guilty. In a weakened condition and weeping bitterly at times, Mrs. McCombs told the Court that she did not mean to do anything wrong but that she was without friends, without a home and had no money, and that she knew someone would take care of the boy if she left it on a doorstep.

Judge Keller placed the woman on probation for a period of two years and named County Detective Anthony Russo as the probation officer. A prison sentence was suspended after Mrs. McCombs told the Court that she had a position as a housekeeper at Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, in Monroe county.

Clifford Dey, 16, and Ambrose Morrilli, 20, of Lambertville, both of whom have been arrested before for stealing an automobile, pleaded guilty before Judge Keller to a charge of breaking into five New Hope garages on the night of May 4.

The Worthington Garage in New Hope and the garage of Frank Bush were robbed by Dey and Morrilli. They stole tools, gasoline, oil and lights. Morrilli had been arrested on seevral occasions and had served time in the Huntingdon Reformatory. Dey was arrested for stealing an automobile when he was fourteen and was placed on parole.

Judge Keller sentenced both boys to the Huntingdon Reformatory for an indefinite period.

An increase in the number of drunken drivers on the highways of Bucks county was mentioned yesterday by Judge Keller, who sentenced two men who pleaded guilty, to a prison term.

Patrolman C. W. Reitz, of Edison, testified that George M. Davies, a former taxicab driver at the Court Inn, who pleaded guilty to driving while drunk, was arrested on May 12 after he had struck a pole near Doylestown. Davies was on his way home from Gardenville at the time. He refused to tell the District Attorney where he had been in Gardenville, or who furnished him with the drinks. He was sentenced to 60 days in prison and directed to pay the costs.

Robert Earl Adams, of 2503 North 11th Street, Philadelphia, pleaded guilty to driving while drunk on the Lincoln Highway near Oxford Valley. A prison sentence of 30 days and costs was imposed by Judge Keller after Patrolman Budihas, of Langhorne, testified that Adams' car struck the rear end of a truck and then crashed into a roadster. A bottle of home brewed beer was found in the car. Adams is a hosiery knitter, is married and has a wife and two children.

Soby Post Auxiliary Will Repeat Three-Act Comedy

LANGHORNE, June 3—Many have been glad to learn that the three-act comedy drama "Nothing But the Truth," given by the American Legion Auxiliary of Jesse W. Soby Post, and members of the Legion at South Langhorne a few weeks ago, is to be repeated.

The play will be staged in I. O. O. F. Hall, here, Thursday evening of this week; and tickets have been selling fast. It is predicted the second performance will far surpass the first.

The cast includes: Robert Bennett, Howard Ott; E. M. Ralston, Warren Randall; Dick Donnelly, Rowland Wislar; Clarence VanDusen, Joseph Zilott; Bishop Doran, John Ziegler; Gwendolyn Ralston, Mrs. Cecil McGary; Mrs. E. M. Ralston, Mrs. Thomas B. Longhurst; Ethel Clark, Miss Mary Keating; Mable Jackson, Miss Rose Bodenschatz; Sable Jackson, Miss Elma E. Haefner; Martha, Mrs. William Riggs.

The amusing situations and tight places through which "Bob" Bennett is forced to go due to the fact that he made a bet he could tell the truth for 24 hours, will keep all entertained.

June 30th—Card party by Shepherd's Delight Lodge, No. 1, in F. P. A. Hall.

INCONSISTENT

There are contradictions and inconsistencies in under prohibition that puzzle and irritate drys and wets alike, because they appear as inequalities or discriminations which, theoretically at least, are not to be reconciled with a democracy.

Under this category comes the latest supreme court decision holding it to be legal for any citizen to buy the alcoholic liquors the sale, manufacture, possession or transportation of which is unlawful. Why the discrimination against the act of buying?

Perhaps it is just as well for enforcement that it is so. Make the buyer of contraband beverages a criminal and you deprive the enforcement forces of their most useful ally. A large percentage of raids and arrests are made on information furnished by dissatisfied customers and competitors swearing that they have made "buys."

Another unfair discrimination has been shown in the confiscatory raids that have been made under the recent ruling that the sale of bottles, bottle caps and other equipment and materials, obviously intended for use in the illicit manufacture of alcoholic beverages, is unlawful. Small shops specializing in these outlawed goods are persecuted while no move has been made to interfere with the business of that chain store owner whose generous contributions to the Anti-Saloon League seem puny beside the vast profits neted him from the sale of home-brew and wine-making equipment for the home.

GASOLINE

Twenty-three million Americans will be unforgiving if the "discovery" of a new formula for making better gasoline from crude oil proves a dud, or if, proving all that is claimed for it, the producers do not avail themselves of it.

The producers have frankly told the public for some time that better motor fuels than those now in use can readily be manufactured, but that present motors are not sufficiently advanced to use the new fuels. Here, however, is a formula, freely offered, which its discoverer declares will add power to present motors and give more miles per gallon.

Consuming 12,000,000,000 gallons of gasoline a year, the American motoring public knows no better news than reports of cheaper and better gasoline, or motors more economical in fuel consumption. The gasoline item of the family budget has assumed importance.

Anything the oil industry can do to cut the cost of gasoline and motor oils will react to its own advantage, for, while the average car owner will make any sacrifice other than forego his motoring, rising gasoline prices do reduce the consumption and falling prices have the opposite effect. Following the cycle to completion, the more gasoline sold the more gasoline taxes collected, the more taxes collected the more good roads built, and the more cars and trucks to burn up gas.

In the United States forces are tampered with, not tempered by, government.

"KONJOLA GOOD TONIC AS WELL AS A MEDICINE"

Pittsburgh Miss Glad to Tell How New Compound Ended Nervousness

MISS LORETTA HARRIS

"I am an employee of The Dow Drug Company and having seen so many people buy Konjola and then come back to praise it, I decided to try it myself," said Miss Loretta Harris, 928 North Lincoln Avenue, Northside, Pittsburgh. "I took this medicine on account of nervousness and my inability to sleep. I had frequent headaches and was much in need of a tonic.

"I have since taken two bottles of Konjola and have been benefited by it. The headaches are much less frequent and my appetite has increased. I sleep soundly and, best of all, Konjola has restored my nerves to a normal condition. Konjola is a good tonic as well as a medicine."

It is logical to believe that what Konjola has done for others it will do for you—for everyone.

Konjola is sold in Bristol at Hoffman's Cut Rate Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—(Adv.)

bingled for his third straight hit; Praul batted for J. Morrell and walked; Arrison hit to Bracco and was retired at first.

Fifth—Gilardi doubled to left; Pieo hit to Still and was out with the aid of Bruce, Gilardi going to third; Whyno and Roe both made hits, Whyno a single, scoring Gilardi, and Roe a double; Quici flied to Arrison and DiTanna fouled out to Morrell.

H. Morrell struck out; Adams was safe on Roe's error, but was in a twin-killing on the next play when Pieo stopped Bruce's grounder, threw to Roe who in turn made a quick throw to Tosti.

Sixth—Tosti fanned; Angelo again flied to center; Bracco was called out on strikes.

Still was out via the strike-out route; Watson lifted a fly to DiTanna; Satterthwaite walked and was forced, Roe to Pieo, on Carp's grounder to the short-stop.

Seventh—Gilardi beat out a hit for his third of the evening; Pieo and Whyno struck out; Roe singled; Spadaccino batted for Quici and was called out on strikes.

UNDER OPERATION

An operation for the removal of his appendix was performed upon Fred Greenlee, of Morrisville, at the Harriman Hospital, yesterday.

BABY GIRL ARRIVES

A baby girl arrived at the home of Mr. and Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Arnold, 553 Bath street, Wednesday, May 28th.

AT RADIO CONVENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pfeifer, of West Circle, were among those who attended the radio convention being held in Atlantic City.

HELD FOR COURT

"Smoky Joe" Kohler and Elwood Richardson, who were taken into custody in Philadelphia because of an overloaded automobile which was later found to contain copper wire were both released under $800 each. The pair will face trial before the Bucks County Court, charged with larceny and receiving stolen goods.

Two East Rockill Youths Rearrested

Diehl's home and then went to bed.

At Rockhill they broke a window to gain an entrance to a house where the owner was not at home. Here they stole a radio, silverware and numerous other articles.

From the Sinclair Storage tanks at Rockhill they stole on another occasion at night, thirty-five gallons of oil after they broke a window to get to the tanks.

At the home of Mrs. Coverly Haskins, a Philadelphia physician living near Church Hill, Bucks county, in one of the show places of that community, Diehl and Bousfield forced their way through a cellar door and stole tools and several cans of kerosene oil from the basement while the owner of the home was away.

On another night they robbed a butcher shop in Bedminster and stole a large quantity of meat from the store, and then stole tires and two sheep skin coats from a nearby garage.

On the Dublin pike near Fountainville they stole six bags of chickens from a hen house. One rooster was killed. Diehl and Bousfield ate the bird at Diehl's home. The rest of the stolen chickens were sold the following day to Martin Zimmerman, a huckster on the Ridge Road for thirty-five cents a pound. For the 191 pounds of fowl they received $44 which was split two ways.

From the gasoline station of Lewis Worthington, Dublin Pike, they stole a case of near-beer, a case of soft drinks and ice cream on another occasion.

They returned to the home of Dr. Haskins at Church Hill on another night and forced their way upstairs, where they stole valuable glassware and silverware worth $2,000, two clocks, one very valuable, clothes and other articles. On this occasion they had been drinking whiskey and they tossed a bottle of ink at a lamp. The entire house was ransacted and damaged.

At the roadside stand of Victor Wackerman, Ridge Hill, they were chased away by the owner after engaging in a revolver duel. Both Diehl and Bousfield carried revolvers and emptied their guns at Wackerman and his son before Diehl was captured.

Last Saturday the State Police were led to a spot near the Three-Mile Run Bridge where they found Diehl's revolver. The stolen loot was then located at Diehl's home and in the woods nearby.

In the confession Diehl and Bousfield also stated that on the night of May 12 on the Ridge Road near the Elephant Hotel, they jacked up a gasoline supply truck and stole four tires and a box of tools. This loot was hidden near Bousfield's home. The following night they stole two kegs of nails and three pairs of boots at a bridge construction job at Three-Mile Run.

"THE MOST SERVICE—AND THE BEST—AT THE LEAST COST TO THE PUBLIC"
—BELL SYSTEM POLICY

"At the Least Cost"

In the telephone industry "the least cost" means:

Telephone rates low enough to make telephone service available to the largest number of people.

High enough so that workers and owners may be fairly compensated, and "to assure the continued financial integrity of the business."

Low enough so that the telephone service may continue to grow and thereby increase in value and usefulness to the user.

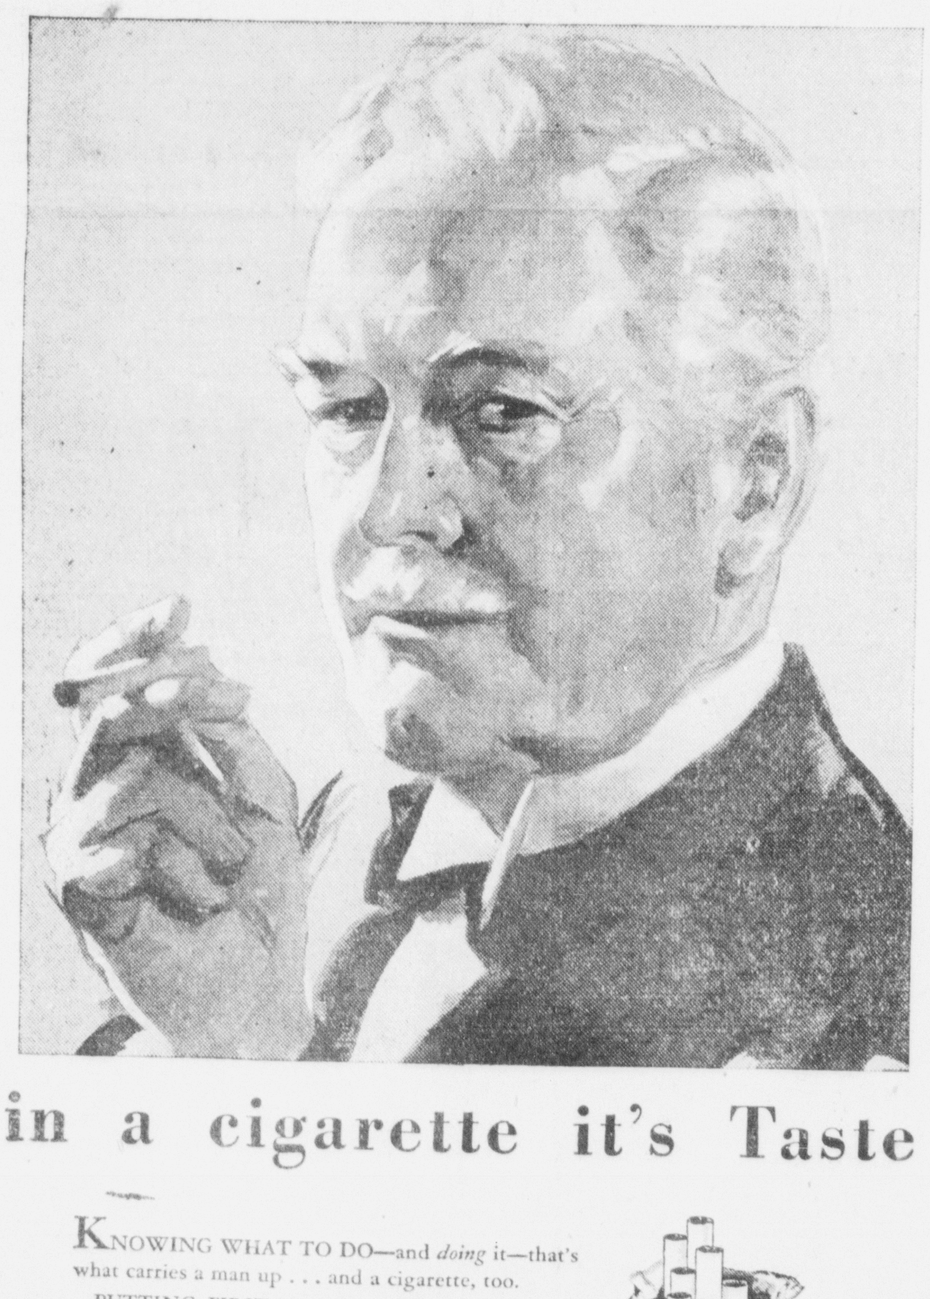

High enough so that today's service may be better than yesterday's, and tomorrow's service may be better than today's.

"The most service and the best at the least cost" is a fundamental in Bell System Policy.

This policy is evidenced by the maintenance of local service rates at a level which has permitted the most rapid growth in the history of the industry—in the face of increasing complexities which are inherent in a growing intercommunication service.

This policy is further evidenced by the very material reductions in out of town rates during the last four years.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

In an executive it's Leadership

in a cigarette it's Taste

KNOWING WHAT TO DO—and doing it—that's what carries a man up . . . and a cigarette, too.

PUTTING FIRST THINGS FIRST—good taste, uniform quality, aroma, flavor — Chesterfield's popularity is built on knowing what smokers want . . . and giving it unfailingly.

TASTE—THAT'S THE ANSWER and that's what smokers get in Chesterfield in fullest measure—the flavor and aroma of mellow tobaccos, exactly blended and cross-blended, all to a single, satisfying end . . . "TASTE above everything".

We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield cigarettes are of finer quality and hence of better taste than in any other cigarette at the price.
